...and charges her with the crime of "spreading propaganda aimed at undermining the system" in relation to her testimony for truth about and justice for the killing of her brother. Eight days after Zahra Sabouhizadeh's arrest, the family discovered that she was being held in a detention centre in Arvaz, Khuzestan province, but the authorities continued to refuse from any information about her fate and denied them access to her. The authorities also summarised Zahra Sabouhizadeh's family to investigation and warned them that she would not be released unless she "cooperated" with them. She was released on bail on 9 August 2023.

According to independent media reports, the family of one-year-old Kian Pirfatah, who was shot dead when security forces unlawfully fired his ammunition into the car in which his family was travelling, have faced relentless harassment and intimidation by the authorities for their public rejection of the official narrative about the circumstances surrounding his death. On the same day that Kian Pirfatah was killed, plainclothes security forces used unlawful lethal force during protests in Isfah, killing six other people, including two other children.¹¹ The authorities have also propagated a false narrative claiming that "terrorists" were responsible for the killings and have convicted and sentenced to death Majid (Abdoul) Kouran,¹² following a grossly unfair trial in relation to the incident leading to Kian Pirfatah's death. However, his family has publicly refuted claims that Majid (Abdoul) Kouran was responsible and have attributed the responsibility to security forces. In response, the authorities have orchestrated a disinformation campaign, briefing state media outlets with gross reports and propaganda videos that seek to discredit Kian Pirfatah's mother and other relatives, claiming that they have lied about the identity of her killer.

The authorities have also summarised Kian Pirfatah's parents multiple times for questioning, including to the prosecution's office, according to statements made by family members on social media, as well as reports from both independent and ¹¹The State's gross violation cases, Arin Kouran, was also unlawfully killed in Isfah on 16 November 2022 and has remained ageless in Isfah, see page 13.
